For the first time in art history a competition for the 'Digital Sculpture Award' was announced. What is a digital sculpture anyway? The boundaries between real and virtual worlds blur. The answer to this question will be presented in an exhibition at the Museum Ulm. A jury awarded 10 artists selected from the internationally successful entries. As part of the exhibition, the exhibition catalogue: 'Digital Sculpture ? Follow the unknown' was designed to capture the artists' points of view to this question. Exhibition: Museum Ulm, Germany (27.01.-13.05.2018).

Modern religious identities are rooted in collective memories that are constantly made and remade across generations. How do these mutations of memory distort our picture of historical change and the ways that historical actors perceive it? Can one give voice to those whom history has forgotten? The essays collected here examine the formation of religious identities during the Reformation in Germany through case studies of remembering and forgetting—instances in which patterns and practices of religious plurality were excised from historical memory. By tracing their ramifications through the centuries, Archeologies of Confession carefully reconstructs the often surprising histories of plurality that have otherwise been lost or obscured.
